BCBA highlight

There is no greater moment than hearing a child say their first word, or make their first friend. It's so easy as adults to forget the magic of childhood, but working at Blossom and getting to witness so many "firsts" for kids reminds me daily of the power of ABA and the importance of play. Kids only get one childhood and it's our job to help them enjoy it to the fullest extent possible, and I am so thankful for the opportunity to be part of the journey!
